COSMOPOLITAN DEMOCRACY.

Although we have accomplished a congenial task in answering Dr. Lucio V. Lopez's strictures on what he is pleased to term the new element and on the growth of scepticism, we cannot dismiss the eloquent lawyer's speech without making some remarks on his views in regard to cosmopolitan democracy. This he condemns with a vehemence that bespeaks less political ability than depth of conviction. But even in our deepest convictions we may be mistaken. The legal luminary who in an academic discourse handled a subject so eloquently must have been blinded by sorrow at the undeniable decline in his profession when he impulsively struck the very hand which the force of circumstances and the natural course of events destine alike to raise that profession to imperishable fame. He draws a distinction between democracy and its cosmopolitan development, and while fulminating his anathema against the latter, he leads us to infer that his ideal of the first is an association of wealth talent and conservatism. On this point we will not argue. Our object is merely to point out that, but for the natural formation of a cosmopolitan democracy we should not yet have done with the days of oppression and servility, against which the eloquent doctor himself would be the very first to rise in arms. His views on the democracy of the United States, which presents such a brilliant phalanx of distinguished lawyers, commentators, authors, and an army of useful inventors and mechanics, are so glaringly erroneous that we feel no inclination to even consider them. Let us look at old times, which people on the decline love to recall to memory, and mounted on the steed which Ariosto's imagination tamed, let us skip over centuries and alight in the Tarpeian rock. The balmy zephyr, perfumed with the odor of ancient splendour, wafts classical recollections of a glorious past and a triumphant democracy. The eternal city, surrounded by its seven hills, was founded by a fratricide bandit who, with a horde of cutthroats and scoundrels from every clime, constituted the first democracy of Rome. There must have been some virtue surely in this democracy, strengthened by the admixture of Sabine and foreign blood. How came it that virtue should thrive with such luxuriance on such criminal ground? Why do the most delicate plants thrive with unusual vigor on a dung-hill?

Here we find, in the pages of history, a cosmopolitan democracy composed of the worst elements. Yet, uncouth has it looked it was destined to produce a Cæsar, a Pompey, a Cicero and an Augustus. It was destined to give birth to a golden age of talent. The poets whose genius was fanned by that democracy came from the provinces, for poets are born in the country, and one amongst them, whose quiet, unassuming genius has stripped Parnassus of its laurels, has described the redeeming virtues of democracy and quaintly told us how Etrura became strong and Rome the most beautiful city of the world:

.... Sic fortis Etruria crevit
Scilicet, et rerum facta est pulcherrima Roma.

Then mark the democratic wisdom of the Romans. They sought to naturalize their foreign residents and make them Roman citizens. Impartial history records the results, and while some Lucio V. Lopez in Carthage, jealous of an exclusive democracy, thundered against the foreign element, Rome was raised by the infusion of new blood to the rank of mistress of the world. Carthage with her conservatism was destroyed, and nothing remains of it to-day but its ruins, upon which many an Argentine Marius may ponder.

Such were the results of cosmopolitan democracy in the old days, and in our own times its march is triumphant. The Argentine nation is not a century old. Many a heron that flies over the city is older. Our democracy has ceased to be exclusive, unless some remnant is yet to be found amongst the scattered tribes of Shahueque or Namuncura, and our cosmopolitan democracy is of very recent date, since it began with our immigration. Yet see the wonders effected by it. We have condensed into a few lustra the progress it has taken European nations centuries to attain. Entire provinces have been placed under cultivation. Railroads stretch in every direction, and on our rivers countless steamers ply. We have yet to reach the apogee of cosmopolitan succ ss and material progress before we can expect art to rise. In another generation, perhaps two, the Argentine mind will find time to seek for higher ideals than those of material development which Dr. Lopez condemns. The talent of our lawyers, our writers, our statesmen will then beam across the ocean. Our Cæsars, our Pompeys, our Virgils, our Juvenals sleep: they are not dead. Perhaps we are indulging in anticipations of history when we contemplate a period of coming greatness, followed by a necessary decline, and an equally necessary reaction that will startle the world.

It is difficult to grasp the motive of Dr. Lopez's diatribe against the cosmopolitanism of democracy, when we see that new blood has made a new world. Looking at the physiological process of transformation at present in operation in the Argentine Republic, from an elevated standpoint, we should say that every marriage of a foreigner here is a step towards national greatness. There are no destructive elements in a cosmopolitan democracy, and although its vices may be great, its virtues and its power are still greater. Every institution, it is true, contains the germ of its own decay, but it also contains the elements of its own reconstruction. The subject, however, is rather deep, and we have preferred to point out only the more salient features of democracy. At this moment the tendency of Argentine or cosmopolitan democracy is a race for wealth, which when once possessed oft leads on to corruption. The Cordobese democrat, in his thirst for gold or even paper-money, may by gambling in National Bank shares, undermine the fabric, we mean the social fabric, but it is a consolation to know that, if sent back to the scenery of his province, he is capable of applying the powers of his mind to nobler pursuits, of writing a poem, drafting a diatribe, or even indulging in an eloquent invective against the gambling, extravagance and corruption we all so much deplore. Our democracy is of a much higher standard than that of ancient Rome, and it is not unsafe to predict it will attain much more elevated ideals. In our Italian, our Belgian, our German and our British immigrant, the seed of national genius is imported. It may sleep for the moment, but the genius of a people survives every vicissitude, and the day will yet come when the descendants of Dr. Lucio, V. Lopez will sing pœans to an Argentine Dante or Moore, or gaze with admiration on the productions of an Argentine Rubens, or lecture at a "colacion" on the profound genius of a Bahia Blanca Shakespeare or a Chivilcoy Schiller.

LORD STANLEY OF CONGO.

London, April 30th.

The Queen has "commanded", as the papers inform us, Mr. Stanley to dine with her on the 6th prox., and the Prince of Wales has already sounded him as to the manner in which a public recognition of his services would be most agreeable. If it were merely a question of the wishes of the nation, a peerage and a life pension of £5,000 a year would be voted by acclamation. But Stanley is an American citizen and is thus precluded from any titular distinction in the same way that Mr Peabody was when the Queen wished to make him a baronet. Nevertheless, as Stanley was born a Welshman, and is only an American by adoption, some papers propose that he should be created Lord Stanley of Congo and thus made a British subject o ce more. It can hardly be disputed that no one ever earned a peerage better, or that the House of Lords would gain by the acquisition of such a man. But it is almost equally certain that three fourths of the Peers would rise up indignantly at the idea of bestowing a coronet on the ex pauper boy of St. Asaph's workhouse. What says my Lord of Rutland?

Let laws and learning,
Arts and commerce, die;
But spare, oh spare!
Our old nobility.

The Peers would certainly boycott the newest Lord Stanley, for there are already three Stanley peerages, that of Alderley, that of Preston (now Viceroy of Canada), and that of the Earls of Derby. It would be lamentable to see the House of Lords on strike, so I think the Queen will hardly make the Congo peerage this time.

Travellers, moreover, are rarely rewarded in this way. Sir Francis Burton and Sir William Butler have indeed been knighted, both famous travellers. On the other hand, Mungo Park, Bruce and other notable explorers have been allowed to go to their graves without a single word of approval. In fact Bruce was persecuted as a liar, in the same way that Stanley and de Chaillu were until ve y recently.

Bruce's annecdotes, however, about Abyssinia are now known to be as true as DeChaillu's story about gorillas using a walking-stick, and the reality of Stanley's marches across Africa are no longer called in question. This brings us once more to the point, in what way can Her Majesty express the gratitude and admiration which she, in common with the British people, feels for the arduous services that Stanley has rendered, and the terrible trials and privations that he has passed through?

His books have brought him large sums of money, which he has wisely and continuously invested in building lots on the outskirts of New York City, and in this manner he is in more affluent circumstances than most men who make literature their occupation. A pension for him would possess but little merit or attraction. As to rank or title, we are still in the dark as to whether he would accept it, and lay aside the diploma of an American citizen. Thus it is by no means impossible that Her Majesty may be in the same difficulty that Alexander the Great was when he wanted to reward Diogenes—

"What can I do for you," said Alexander.

"Just stand aside from my tub," said Diogenes, "and let me have the sunshine."

But there is no fear that Stanley will give such brusque reply to the high-minded lady who wishes to record her admiration of him. He will tell Her Majesty of his terrible adventures, and thank her for her sympathy. He will, perhaps, bring away from Windsor a photograph of the Queen, but, at all events, he will appreciate the kindly feeling which prompted her to invite him to dinner. It strikes me that the papers are wrong in saying the Queen commands him to dinner; she can command me or my next door neighbor, because we are British subjects; but not a foreigner. In this case I think it is more correct to say, an invitation.

LONDON LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

MR. GLADSTONE ON THE MOSAIC RECORD.

April 24.

Mr. Gladstone is writing in "Good Words" a series of essays on the "Impregnable Book of Holy Scripture." In the number for May next, not yet out, he has taken for his theme "The Days of Creation." From early copies or proofs this morning's newspapers publish a long summary of the essay which seems to be important and will assuredly set the English world thinking on solemn subjects, and peradventure revive the bickerings and the controversies of thirty or forty years ago. Mr. Gladstone we know has faith. His detractors deny that he has judgment. That his egoism is abnormal is proved in his exordium, in which he says: "I can lay no claim here to be heard more than any other person. Yet I will say that any man whose labour and duty for several scores of years have included as their central point the study of the means of making himself intelligible to the mass of men is in a far better position to judge what would be the forms and method of speech proper for the Mosaic writer to adopt than the most perfect Hebraist, as such, or the most consummate votary of natural science, as such."

Most people have imagined that Mr. Gladstone's greatest labour and study have been to make himself unintelligible to the masses by wrapping up his real meanings in clouds of "exuberant verbosity," as Disraeli used to say. In any case, his informing us that his own apostolic experience in expounding and persuasion gives him a special insight into the methods adopted by the "Mosaist writer"—evidently not Moses—and one directly inspired, as Mr. Gladstone believes, by the "Most High," is only a cloudy excuse for the fact that he does not understand Hebrew. Neither does he understand Sanscrit, nor German, nor natural science, nor Egyptology; nor does he possess, for the tremendous task he has undertaken, "en amateur," a single attribute beyond an ardent faith in the religion of his "forbears" and in himself and Homer, and such general knowledge he may have acquired by extensive reading, and that kind of classical knowledge peculiar to his time, country and university. A few weeks ago the "Scot's Observer" cruelly and of course inaccurately characterised Mr Gladstone as "a third rate ecclesiastic." I shall be curious to read that high conservative periodical next Sunday or the week after, when it has had time to pick out the illogicalities in the ex-premier's diversion into theology. It will be Scot against Scot, dirk against dirk, and no qu rter. The "Scot's Observer" will admit, as we all must admit, the exceeding cleverness of the points in Mr Gladstone's essay, and the eloquence of his casuistry. There is a delightful quaintness accompanied by a certain rationality in the idea he has thrashed out and puts in "small caps" that the Mosaic Days mean, CHAPTERS IN THE HISTORY OF CREATION. "The evening and the morning were the first day," reminds us of the conventional ending of the chapters in the authentic edition of the "Thousand Nights and One Night." It is eminently Oriental, and Mr Gladstone's shy is a happy thought; but when it comes to reconciling that mode of dividing the sacred record of the creation into seven chapters of a narrative with the resulting injunction as to keeping holy the seventh day as the day on which the Almighty rested from his work of creation, Mr Gladstone says: "it seems also probable that the "story of Creation was intended to have "a special bearing on the great institution "of the day of rest, or Sabbath, by exhi-"biting it in the manner of an object les-"son." Now that is not happy. It is rather suggestive of the third rate ecclesiastic, and implies that the narrator rested, not the Creator.

Mr. Gladstone seems to dwell too unctuously on all his own views in regard to the moral and spiritual teaching of the narrative, as if it were a parable or the subject of a sermon that he himself would glory in delivering in the kirk; whereas Mr. Gladstone's strongest point is that the Mosaic record is a plain narrative, which as he well says "if not intended to be complete or precise," is to an extraordinary degree confirmed by the teaching of modern scientific research. Mr. Gladstone says: "It is conceivable that a theory of Creation and of the ordering of the world might be bodied forth in poetry, or might under given circumstances be as new, based on the researches of natural science. But in the first place this recital cannot be due to the mere imagination of a poet. It is in a high degree, as we shall see, methodical and elaborate, and there is nothing either equalling or within many degrees approaching it which can be set down to the account of poetry in other spheres of primitive antiquity, whatever their poetical faculty may have been." Mr. Gladstone proceeds to argue that the Creation Story deals with matters of fact which from the nature of the case were inaccessible to inquiry because they date before the creation of our race. "If," he says, "it is, as it surely professes to be, a serious conveyance of truth, it can only be a communication from the Most High."

I refuse to quote more from a mere newspaper summary. That summary you will see, as you will also see "Good Words." It is to be hoped that when we have read and inwardly digested Mr. Gladstone's apologia for his own life and creed we shall have a higher opinion of his powers of reasoning than the summary suggests. When we were boys, about the time of the publication of Chamber's "Vestiges," Mr. Gladstone's strong point in regard to the marvellous coincidence of scientific teaching with the general facts narrated in the Book of Genesis was discussed over and over again. What may be said of Mr. Gladstone now was said of his English contemporaries then—"They never got beyond Homer and the Greeks." Since that time older civilisations have come more into light. The Hebrew books tell us themselves that Moses was skilled in all the learning of the Egyptians. From whom did they receive their learning? The records are lost; whilst the Jewish records happen to have been preserved. It would be imprudent to pin one's faith on such a flimsy argument as Mr. Gladstone advances when he reminds us triumphantly that the facts related in the Mosaic record were inaccessible to human inquiry "because they date before the creation of our race". That might be true of certain facts about the time of creation. Adam and Eve's history is certainly beyond the ken of science; but Mr. Gladstone's whole argument is that the Creation story tallies with modern research which pretends to go back millions of years before our race was created. An older science and research may have been likewise. Mr. Gladstone had better have left the subject alone.

BOYCOTTING ARGENTINE HIDES

(From the N. Y. Times.)

It is enough to make Gen. Grant and Gov. Jewell—the great tanners of the Republican party—turn in their graves, this proposition of the Republican managers to put a tax on imported hides. It was during the administration of President Grant, and in consequence of a movement in which Gov. Jewell took an active part, that the modest duty of 10 per cent was taken from hides. This was done in the interest of American industry, and was a rational measure, and it was so far from being an injury to American cattle growers that the latter have derived an indirect benefit from it by reason of the stimulus to the consumption of all sorts of leather. It is true that the price of hides has fallen very considerably of late, but that has been a common experience with all agricultural or pastoral products, and it has extended over the world. In estimating the present advantages or disadvantages of one or another branch of industry, this must be taken into consideration. The question is not whether cattle growers make less than they did, but whether they have been in any way unfairly discriminated against. As to this there can be but one answer. They have not been the victims of any discrimination whatever. They have no right, therefore, to come to Congress now and demand discrimination against others.

The proposed duty is 1½ cent per pound on hides of all sorts. This in some cases would be but 11 per cent. In other cases it would be as high as 35 per cent., and in common with all specific duties it would weigh heaviest upon the cheaper article in the most extensive use. In other words, like nearly all the so-called protective duties, it puts the sorest burden upon the working class, upon those who are least able to sustain it, and to whom an increased cost in a necessary of life is of the greatest consequence. It may make the same percentage of difference to the workingman if he pays $3 instead of $2 50 for a pair of shoes that it does to a wealthy man who pays $12 instead of $10. But if the 50 cents for the one is one-fourth or one-third of his daily income, and the $2 to the other is one-tenth or one twentieth of his daily income, the burden for the poor man is three or four times as great. Nor is this the only consideration. While the cattle growers imagine that a duty on hides will help them, they are counting without their host. They make several wholly unfounded and mistaken assumptions. One is that the demand will remain the same, which is not true. If the price of hides is advanced by this duty—and that is the only possible purpose of imposing it—the price of everything into which hides enter will also advance. The result will be that many things now made and consumed in large quantities will then be consumed in smaller quantities, and many now generally used will not be used at all. The laborer whose family now consumes two pair of shoes a year will try to make a pair last nine months. The farmer will patch up his harness instead of getting a new set. The old trunks will be made to "go" longer. Everywhere, in all the countless channels of trade, the movement will be more sluggish until the price falls again.

The second assumption is that the supply will remain stationary. If it did not, the exclusion of hides from abroad would serve no purpose. But it will not remain the same. It tends to increase under any circumstances from domestic sources. It will be stimulated by higher prices. In the end the lessened demand and increased supply will, after a period of excitement and confusion, leave the cattle growers no better off than they are now. The scheme of the Republican managers, is, therefore, an illusory one. It will not confer the benefits it promises. But the injury it would do would be immediate and real. It would kill the export trade in leather, which has been steadily growing. In 1888 this amounted to $9,500,000. In 1889 it was $10,700,000. This is not a trade that we can afford to throw away. It is not one that any political party has the right to destroy. We shall not try to characterise the political wisdom of such a measure. It is incalculably reckless and stupid. For the ultimate interests of the country it would be well that it should pass, and that the protection policy should be load d with this and like blunders until a disgusted and indignant people arose and swept it out of existence.

Railway Items.

Mr. Michael Tedin, who has been appointed to deliver the Western Railway to Mr. H. G. Anderson, will hand over the concern on the 5th inst.

The rumour that the Anglo-Argentine has purchased the Lacroze or Central tramway is confirmed. All the particulars are for the present kept under reserve. Mr. Gunning will find it hard work to put the old Central on the same working-footing as the Anglo-Argentine.

A telegram was received yesterday from Santiago, stating that the works of the bridge across the Dulce have been begun.

According to Dr. Araoz's letter to the Minister on the subject of the East Argentine Railway, it would appear that the limit fixed for expenses has been overstepped. Dr. Araoz says that the sum of $26,327 has been overspent. We alluded some time ago to the retrenchment proposed by the National Railway Board on the estimates of this railway.

An Anglo-Argentine tram was nearly smashed up the other day by an Ensenada train. The guard and a passenger were slightly bruised.

Inspector Quesada, in his report, states that the service of the Central Entre-Riano Railway is excellent.

The La Plata Government have authorized the Southern Railway to make sundry improvements in Ayacucho, Adrogue and Hinojo stations, and to make a junction at Las Flores of the Canuelas and the Bahia Blanca lines.

Messrs Woodgate and Company have applied to Congress for privilege to build a railway from Venado Tuerto to Junin.

A London exchange confirms as follows the news we gave some time ago of Mr. Thomas Clarke's retirement from the management of the Rosario Railway:—

"We understand that Mr. T. C. Clarke, C. E., the engineer and general manager of the Buenos Ayres and Rosario Railway, is about to retire from the active management, but that he will remain in Buenos Ayres as local representative and chief engineer until the completion of all the Company's extension works now under construction. Mr. George Hunt, from the Great Northern (latterly at the Nottingham district), has been appointed to succeed Mr. Clarke as the general manager of this railway, and the Rosario Company are to be congratulated on having secured the services of such an able and popular officer to take the leading part in the administration of their railway. Mr. Hunt will sail for Buenos Ayres on the 22nd May, leaving behind him many friends in the railway world on this side, but he will carry with him their best wishes for his success in his new career, for which he is specially qualified."

The Board of Public Works have ordered the guarantee of fifty thousand dollars, deposited by Messrs. John Meiggs, Son and Co., to be returned to them. These gentlemen deposited the amount at the time they took over the concession for a railway from Nanducito to Presidencia Roca.

The Inspection Board has advised the rejection of the petition of the Great Southern of Santa Fe and Cordoba Railway to be allowed to carry passengers with the goods trains between Villa Constitucion and Melincue, as the company has not carried out the prescriptions of the law.

The Public Works Board has approved the plans of the Pobladores Railway as to the alterations for crossing the San Fernando Canal by the Belgrano and Las Conchas line, and the branch to the port of the Northern line, now owned by the Central Argentine.

DEATH OF MR THOMAS DRYSDALE.

With deep regret we announce the death of this most estimable gentleman, at Southampton, on the 30th ult., aged 77 years. Deceased left Buenos Aires only last month on his customary winter trip to Europe; and although all during last summer in delicate health and unable to go out much, still his friends cherished the hope that the sea voyage would bring him round and restore him to his usual good health.

Mr. Thomas Drysdale's name in British River Plate circles was in every sense a household word. There is not a charity in this country that is not his debtor. Possessed of ample fortune, after years of trial and labour, he proved himself the true man by never shrinking from the responsibilities which fortune and wealth entailed. Patron, we may say, of the Scotch Church and school, he not only gave with an open hand to support every want, but he personally attended on all public occasions, and by example and advice lent them better services than mere money subscriptions could supply. More still: this exemplary man allowed no sectarian views to limit his charity, and the Irish Orphanage loses in him one of its best and most liberal supporters.

Mr. Drysdale was, in politics, liberal to the backbone and very much of the Gladstonian and John Bright type. We shall all miss Don Tomas, who was one of our earliest friends and most constant subscribers.

Some years ago he tried hard to found in this city an Institution for the Blind, but his efforts, from one cause or other, failed, owing to lack of support from the Minister of Government and the authorities. In business matters he was one of the most successful of British merchants ever started in the River Plate, and has left to his sons not only the splendid patrimony of a good name, but also a colossal firm which is at present conducted under their able and sound direction.

His long years of residence in this country made him in everything save name an Argentine, and his affection for the River Plate, and his steady faith in its great future, bore him up in all the dark periods of crisis and trouble through which during his lifetime it went.

Notwithstanding his advanced years he was hale and strong up to within a few months of his demise. Last April he visited many of the public buildings of this city, and almost every morning took his customary early walk before breakfast. Splendid foot-prints he has left behind. Death after all has its sting, and we all lament his loss. The setting sun on his useful, good life closed at Southampton. He never reached his hospitable home at Moreno House Liverpool, in which city we suppose he will be interred. Here, in the Plate, he needs neither cenotaph nor monument. His charities are nobler monuments of his worth than "storied urn or animated bust."

To his disconsolate family we tender every expression of our deepest sympathy. The STANDARD never puts mourning in its columns for a better or a truer friend.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

To-day's local event is the farewell demonstration to General Mitre, which, judging by the "lever de rideau" at the Opera House last night, promises to be the grandest thing of the kind ever seen in this city. The procession will form at 1 o'clock in Plaza San Martin, march by Calle Florida to Plaza Victoria, and back by San Martin to the General's house. He leaves on Tuesday in the Duca di Galliera, and we join the whole country in wishing him favouring gales and a safe return home.

We hear, with our hair trembling on our head, that the beautiful, new mahogany ring in the Bolsa has already been christened "Mammon's spittoon." Mammon ought to be ashamed of himself; but, unfortunately, he never, or hardly ever, is.

Baron von Rotenhan, the popular representative of the German Empire near the Argentine Government, leaves on the 3rd inst. in the steamer Galliera for Europe on leave of absence granted him by his Government. The best wishes of all accompany the Minister, who, during his three years' residence in the Plate, has won the highest esteem in all circles, whether native or foreign, on both sides of the river. In wishing Baron Rotenham a pleasant voyage we are glad to know that we shall have the pleasure of welcoming him back to these shores in a few months. He leaves in the same steamer as General Mitre: two congenial spirits will thus meet on the deck of the Veloce steamer.

Those in search of good, solid furniture should attend the auction of the late Mr. Sam Abbott's, on Tuesday next, at 1722 Calle Bolivar.

There is a grand bill of fare at the Politeama to-night. First L'Ami Fritz; then a duet by Judic and Huguennet, then some new songs by Judic, and finally Josephine, which was specially written for Judic. On Tuesday "La Femme a Papa," a capital piece.

There was nothing very fresh from the Uruguayan capital yesterday, except that the Attorney General and some brokers on the Bolsa cannot agree as to the moral aspect of some transactions in which the latter have been engaged, and for which they will be prosecuted.

The latest phase of the Catamarca shinplaster muddle is that that enterprising province has not confined itself to 'vales,' but has gone in for a large imitation of the notes engraved by our friends Bradbury and Co. Somebody in Catamarca ought to get into the Penitentiary about this audacious affair. What will they say in Lombard Street?

We have again to thank General Mansilla for sending us another volume of his inimitable "Causeries," very neatly compiled by Mr J A Alsina, the publisher. This is volume No. V and contains some very sparkling productions, which, though light reading, reveal an extraordinary knowledge of England, France and Spain. The gallant General has a profound knowledge of Shakespeare's writing and likes to display it. We can recommend the "Causeries" to our readers, and we congratulate General Mansilla, whom we shall henceforward consider as the Argentine Schlegel.

There was a large gathering of friends last night at the house of our old friend, Don Emilio Schroeder, in Calle Mexico, a convivial party of "intimes" glad to shake hands with the popular host on the occasion of his silver wedding to Argentine soil. We remember him well when yesterday, twenty five years ago, he landed on the passenger-mole with no other patrimony than the sterling good name he inherited from Dr. Wilhelm Schroeder, the veteran journalist and poet of the Luneburger Haide, and a large stock of doubts and expectations. Day by day he struggled in the hard toil of business, not in the magic circle of speculation or under the capricious smiles of easy made fortune, till he has now reached a position where he can rest satisfied and at ease. Surrounded by a crowd of friends, he could gather last night the high esteem in which he is held, and the party broke up reluctantly in the early hours of morn in the midst of the echoes of 'Hoch soll er leben'. We wish our old friend a continuance of the prosperity that smiles on him, a well-earned reward to sterling qualities and persevering hard work.

The collections for the Irish Orphanage last month amounted to 2,027.95 dollars, and the expenses were 743.86 dollars. We are glad to note that the deficit decreases every month. It is now $5,915 99. The total receipts during the month were $2,260.60.

The trains leaving the Central Station at 11.35-12.10 and 1.35 to-day for Palermo will stop at the Hipodromo Argentino course, where a splendid meeting and a series of interesting events under the auspices of the Sport Club Internacional come off.

We call attention to the notice in our first column, that Mr. Rix has found it necessary, owing to increase of business, to remove to larger premises at 384 Calle Maipu. We congratulate him.

A tolerably repulsive specimen of a miser died the other day in Calle Paraguay. He was an Italian, named Cabucci, and went to his account abandoned by everybody in his last moments. He has left a fortune of five millions of dollars, all amassed by lending money at Shylock interest. There is neither family, nor heir, nor will, so the State stands a good chance of this dirty pile of cash.

We are glad to hear that things are going on fairly at the Naposta Colony. The farmers are ploughing for next season, and the weather is most favourable. The only drawback is that the women and children, and, indeed, many of the men, are poorly off for winter clothing.

The latest fashion fads in Europe are looking-glasses on dance-cards, and a looking glass stand for the 'menu,' so that ladies can see how they look at table. Mdme. Heine has given her daughter, the Princess of Monaco, four dozen of these mirrors, with exquisitely worked frames in 'repoussé' silver. The fashion comes from Russia.

"Cab, Sir?" is now getting to be as familiar a question here as in Piccadilly. There are two English drivers and owners of their own Hansom cabs now in this city, both very civil men and crack drivers, and their horses are of the very best. One of them is generally to be found at or near the Kosmos Club. The "hijos del pais" in the Jehu line have learned the two words "Cab, Sir?" and we were rather startled at being hailed in them the other morning by a dusky son of the soil presiding over a battered victoria and two "mancarones" of a raw-bonedness that would have delighted the Knight of La Mancha. The unerring eye for nationality possessed by hackney drivers and newsboys in this cosmopolitan city is very remarkable. The latter never make a mistake, and their "STANDARD, Sir? ah! yes vere good"; "Courrier, Monsieur?" "Operaio, Signori?" are never addressed to the wrong parties.

We have been favoured with the Police Report on the capital of the republic for 1889-1890. It is a voluminous volume of over 400 pages and full of interesting matter compiled in a way that does much credit to the Police department independent of the more important evidence it contains of the great improvement in this branch of the public service under its present highly competent chief, Colonel Capdevila.

Cordoba seems quite unconscious of or indifferent to the rod which the Minister of Finance is pickling for its Free Bank. The latest idea up there is to get rid of a million and a half in costly school buildings. Go it Cordoba.

There is a good deal of "common sense" and hard fact in the following paragraph from a society exchange:—"Men condemn and criticise the very things in their own wives and sisters that they run after and admire in the sisters and wives of other men. One of their great "hobbies" is "common sense" shoes. They advocate them and insist on their wives and sisters wearing them, yet were they ever known to say a lady had a pretty foot that was seen in a "common sense" shoe? Never! Men are so peculiar. They talk of their admiration for sensible girls, condemn paint, powder, small waists, and French heels, and at the same time their most serious attentions are given to the girls devoted to all the frivolities known to the fair sex."

The King of Greece is the best tennis player among the royalties of Europe.

The "concurso de Gauchos" at the Exhibition to-day will attract a crowd, owing to the novel nature of the spectacle and the fact that the Exhibition will close to-morrow. There will be a chase by the Gauchos after a real Indian brought expressly from the Pampas. While fleeing the Indian will unsaddle his horse and jump on another bareback, at full gallop all the time. We strongly advise our recent correspondent, "Recent Arrival," to go and see the fun and write all about it to her Majesty the Queen, who will enjoy it as much as the manifestation in her honour here yesterday week.

One of the Jueces de Paz who were blown up by the Judges the other day writes a long letter to the papers explaining his absence from his post on the occasion of their lordships' unexpected call, and telling them bluntly that they and their courts want a hauling over the coals quite as badly as he and his brethren. We should say that this will be considered flat blasphemy by the Bench in general.

We remind the members of the A. C. Y. M. Association of the annual business meeting to be held to-morrow (Monday), as per notice in our advertising columns. We are also asked to state that it has been found impossible to trace many of the members at the addresses given in the Society's books.

A "Zoo" in Rosario rushes, or, rather, walks in a dignified way into print to defend fox-hunting as by no means a cruel pastime, like cock and bull-fighting. It is well known in the United Kingdom that "the fox likes it," as all who have ever enjoyed chasing him can vouch for. What Reynard very properly objects to is the un sportsmanlike atrocity of shooting him, as the French and Continentals generally are not ashamed to do, their acquaintance with the pigskin, as a rule, being of quite too fragile a nature to admit of their chasing him on horseback over hill and dale and hedge and stream.

A society is being formed by the German Empress, "for the preservation of good habits among Prussian ladies." A society with similar aims was founded a few years ago in Denmark by the Countess Moltke. The members, among other things, are forbidden to wear dresses of silk or velvet (with the exception of black silk); or any such as leave the neck and arms bare; or to wear jewelry, birds feathers, or artificial flowers. We should say that Her Imperial Majesty has a stiff job in hand, even in the domestic Fatherland.

A girl of 14 lately shot another of the name age dead in Rosario from motives of jealousy. The shocking case was at first thought to be one of suicide.

It is said that another traveller in the Editorial Bus is about to follow two recently demised contemporaries to the shades "pro tem." This sudden burst of survivalofthefittestism in the E. B. is depressingly remarkable. What can be the cause of it? Edtorial influenza!

The performance of La Favorita at the Opera House on Friday night was excellent, Kashmau being the hero of the night. De Lucia both sang and acted Fernando excellently, and his rendering of the famous "Spirito gentil" was as good as Gayarre's. La Stahl was an irreproachable Leonor.

In the Queen's household there are two sets of attendants. Half do duty for one month, and are then relieved by the other half. They thus do duty for only six months in the year. For those of the household who have done service for twenty years, the Queen has a special decoration, which she presents in person, with a few kind words. Her Majesty has also a photograph of every person employed in her numerous households, with the date of their entrance into her service, and other particulars relating to them.

The Duke of Orleans was recently created a Commander of the Grand Cross of the Order of Malta. It is not his orders but his disorder which has made the Duke prominent.

The ill presented to Congress on Friday by Deputy Andronicus Castro, to cut down by 33 per cent all pensions over 200 dollars a-month, is hailed with waving hats and loud cheers by the entire public. The pension scandal is one of the worst leeches that exhaust the Treasury. The honourable Deputy mentioned that hundreds of people well able to work are living in luxury in Europe on pensions to which their claims are shadowy or nil. Another important feature of the sitting was the reappearance of the great Wheeler Port scheme, which, if carried out, will make Buenos Aires the greatest port on earth. The empresa will deposit half a million dollars as guarantee.

The spicy New York World says:—"There is, it is said, a movement on foot among the delegates of the Pan-American Congress looking towards the erection of a costly monument to perpetuate the memory of the first All-American Conference. How would it do to erect in this connection a statue of the Greek god Pan? He had horns, a pug nose, a goat's beard, and his voice was terrific. Put Pan into a dress-suit, seat him at a well-loaded table, and let the following legend be inscribed upon the pedestal. "Behold the Great American Pan—Son of Jingoism and Junketism—Whose Statue Here Arises in Memory of a Great Racket Held in the United States in 1889-90."

The poor Lord Mayor is always treading on somebody's corns, and it must be added that his own feet get stamped on pretty heavily now and then. The latest thorn in his side is that hundreds of house-owners are unaestethic enough to object to trees being planted in front of their houses, as ordered by his lordship, who has called in the police, as is usual on any and every occasion in this fine country. How the pow-wow will end is hard to say. We think the house-owners will have to knuckle down, and, perhaps, stump up also, in the shape of a fine.

RACING NOTES AND ANTICIPATIONS.

As usual, an excellent programme has been issued by the Hipodromo Nacional for to day's meeting, and not only excellent in itself but also well arranged, for the two most uninteresting events are respectively placed first and last on the card thus affording those who can only arrive late or must leave early a full opportunity of witnessing the principal races.

Although the weight-for-age race, the Premio Junio, contains amongst its 54 entries some of the best horses in the country, it seems probable that none of the cracks will compete and that the actual field will be very small; indeed, it would be difficult to pick out 2 certain runners. No interest has been taken in this event, the speculation of the week having centred in the two handicaps, both of which promise to produce excellent contests.

Our selections are as follows:—

Premio Ilusion—Tip.
" Comparacion—Ec Bolivar.
" Junio—Avril.
" Ligereza—Diane de Lys.
" Combate—Ary.

It appears that in the course of last year, the stewards of the English Jockey Club made representations to the Argentine Jockey Club with the view of establishing reciprocal relations; to this the latter replied that they would consider the subject and, as the president, Dr. Pellegrini, was shortly going to England, he would give an answer in person. We now see from the Racing Calendar that at a meeting of the Jockey Club held at Newmarket on April 30th last, a question was asked on this subject, to which Lord March replied that the stewards had always expected a visit from Dr. Pellegrini, but, as a considerable time had now elapsed, they thought that some further communication might now be addressed to the Buenos Aires Jockey Club, and that this should be done. We can understand the desire of the English Jockey Club for reciprocity, and can equally appreciate the reluctance in certain quarters here to entertain the question; for, there is no doubt that in the puissant, growing youth of the Argentine Turf it is advisable to procure "elements" at any risk. We therefore trust that, for the present, at any rate, no international arrangement of the kind contemplated by the English Turf Authorities will be arrived at. In expressing this opinion, it must not for a moment be understood that we are advocating immoral measures, but, in the present position of the Turf here, it seems entirely unnecessary and altogether undesirable that it should be trammelled by gratuitous self-imposed restrictions.

CONGRESS.

The "asuntos entrados" included a petition for extra pension by Mrs Velez, and the report of the Committee in reference to restoring General Mitre to his rank in the army, advising a minute to the Executive on the subject, to the effect that the Argentine Congress would regard with satisfaction the exercise by the Executive of its Constitutional prerogative in restoring to his rank in the army the ex-President of the Republic, Don Bartolome Mitre, as Lieutenant General.

Senator del Pino reported for the War and Constitutional Committees and referred to the great public services of the citizen in question as the most brilliant in the contemporary history of the nation; and for those services the House of Deputies had sanctioned the Bill. The Committees had no difficulty in the matter, as, with or without rank, Bartolome Mitre would always be called General Mitre. The only question with the Committees was: whether the Bill as sent from the Deputies trenched on the exclusive prerogative of the Executive to confer rank in the army, or was within the Constitutional faculty of Congress to confer "honours." To conciliate all ideas on the point the Committees submitted the minute laid before them, as a substitute for the Deputies' Bill.

The minute was then voted, in general and in particular, unanimously.

The House subsequently held a secret sitting about the nomination of a Commercial Judge and other matters, and rose at 3.10 p.m.

Importante Remate de 24 Leguas kilometricas
O sean 60,000 hectareas de magnifico
CAMPO
De los Territorios Nacionales, divididas en 6 lotes y situados en la Seccion IV letra A, Nos. 15, 16, 25 y 24 y Letra B Nos. 14 y 10 de la misma seccion.

Estos lotes son parte del Establecimiento El Hucal que fueron comprados por el Sr. Antonino Cambaceres.
Base para la venta 3 pesos por hectarea. Con ventajosas condiciones de pago: mitad al contado y mitad a 6 meses, sin interes y con garantia hipotecaria.
El Miercoles, 18 de Junio
A las 2 de la tarde.
En nuestra casa Alsina 482.
Remataremos por orden terminante de su dueño, siempre que exceda de la infima base arriba indicada, el campo compuesto de 60,000 hectares.
La venta se hará por lotes de 10,000 hectareas o sean 4 leguas kilometricas.
En cuanto a la bondad de los campos podemos asegurar que son excelentes y de lo mejor de todo la Pampa Central; fueron elejidos por el finado Señor Don Antonio Cambaceres, que era competentisimo en la materia. Para mejor inteligencia de los interesados, podemos ofrecerles un informe municioso de cada lote, que obra en nuestra poder.
Su ubicacion tan proximo á Bahia Blanca, puerto importantisimo, es una ventaja que no debe perderse de vista.
El Ferro carril que actualmente se construye y que unira aquel puerto con Villa Mercedes, Buenos Ayres, cruzará estos campos y una estacion en los mismos es casi segura.
Tomando en consideracion todas estas ventajas, creemos que la base de 3 pesos m/n por hectarea es sumamente bajo.
Todo comprador sin excepcion oblará 5 o/o al recibir y firmar el boleto de compraventa. Por mas datos ocurrir a nuestra casa Alsina 480 y 482.

ON 'CHANGE.

First Ring............ 225.00
Second Ring........... —

Saturday, May 31st.

The critical moment is passed and the market again on the high road to low gold and high stocks. Few who witnessed the violent bullish reaction of yesterday expected to see such a speedy rally to-day, and reviewing yesterday's stirring events in the clearer light of to-day's experiences, there can be no doubt that had not the market been so dead set for a fall, gold would have shot up to 250. As a matter of fact, it was said on 'Change to day that had Mr. Uriburu's unfortunate slip occurred a month ago, gold would have bounded to 400. These are mere speculative conjectures, however well based, and the main point stands out clearly that the market is dead set for a fall, which may bring the quotation during the coming month below 200. The bears have the ball at their feet and are practically unhampered, whilst the bulls have a big "descubierto" to wipe out before they can begin to offer any resistance. This is the state of the market at the close of the month, and everything looks so fair and promising that the silver lining of the crisis may now be fairly considered well defined. Exchange keeps very firm, in spite of the fall in gold, which is attributed by brokers to the expectation entertained by takers that gold will come still lower.

The following is a summary of operations effected this afternoon during the first ring:—

Punctually to time Mr. Marsans, the popular liquidator, mounted the rostrum and informed an insignificant attendance of brokers and onlookers that the business to be done was meagre in the extreme. He sold—
$5,000 gold at 225
200 Catalinas Mole Shares at 41
and offered 100 General Credit Company's shares, for which there was no bid, the lot being therefore withdrawn. This closed the liquidation, one of the quietest the market has experienced for a long time. There were no failures or hitches spoken of, so that business starts with a clean leaf on Monday.

Santa Fe advices announce that Inspector Thiriot has begun his task of inspecting the books and cash of the Provincial bank, his report to appear in a few days. The Custom House returns of Rosario are over eight hundred thousand dollars for the month, an increase ascribed to the passing of the Gold Duties Bill. Messrs. Laberne and de la Peña have been declared bankrupts.

According to the important telegrams received by La Argentina, Argentine values have all improved their quotations on the London market, four and a half per cent Sterling Bonds closing at 79, 1884 loan at 93 and three and a half per cent loan at 63½ per cent. Argentine woo's in Havre and Antwerp are rather flat.

There is no safer standard to go by in gauging the state of the market than the month's liquidation prices, and comparing those for the expiring month with those of April it will be seen at a glance that the general recovery which had begun to dawn in that month shews satisfactory progress. It must be remembered that the first spurt absorbs almost the entire stock of energy, so that had quotations barely held their own there would be little ground for complaint, and happily even more has been accomplished, and the market is to-day far sounder and stronger in every way than at the close of the preceding month. Gold has fallen, National Bank Shares have improved, and Cedulas have stiffened up so marvellously that it is believed that the immense stock in the market is exhausted. The following are the figures:—

Liquidation prices—

Minister Uriburu's letter to the editor of La Prensa, published in this morning's issue, was generally accepted in the market as throwing a new light upon his utterances in Congress which so perturbed affairs yesterday. The letter is frank and sincere, and evidently written to dispel the mistaken interpretation put upon his words in the market. It runs as follows:—

"My dear Sir,—

"I beg to acknowledge with thanks your letter anent my declaration in the Senate yesterday, which I believe have been misinterpreted and which I therefore hasten to explain. I have not declared that I would accept the responsibility of the clandestine emissions but of the measures adopted by the government in a cabinet council to save some banks in a most critical pass, as announced by the President of the Republic in his Message to Congress. There is nothing remotely clandestine even in this; it was a government measure with which I am thoroughly in sympathy, whatever may be the consequences attached to it.

"The banks which availed themselves of the Bank law of 1887 all had local emissions which were to have been called in within the term specified by the law. This was not done, at least completely, although the law and decrees of the National Government declare them valueless. They cannot nevertheless be classified as clandestine issues; they may be illegal, prejudicial, what you please, but not clandestine, since they were in open circulation both before and after the promulgation of the law referred to. I believe that these emissions are a great evil and am determined to wipe them out; to effect this, however, I lack full data from the Inspection office. In the course of the discussion in the Senate I would have wished even "en paseant" to explain my ideas on the point, but was hindered by the rules of debate. I owe it to the country to give a true and complete statement of the actual state of the currency, and I shall not hesitate to do so when I am in possession of the requisite data. In moments of difficulty nothing is so imperatively necessary as the truth as it shews the dangers and points to the remedies. My ideas in this respect you will find embodied in my note to the Inspection office.

I remain &c.,
Francisco Uriburu

The adjourned meeting of shareholders of the Catalinas Moles Company was continued yesterday, accounts being approved, Messrs. F. Seeber and Dr. J. M. Rosa were elected directors and Mr T. Hogg syndic, with Mr. A. Seeber as substitute.

The ordinary meeting of shareholders of La Edificadora was also held yesterday, Mr. Ramsay in the chair, 95 shareholders present. The report and balance-sheet were approved, the latter shewing 274,652 m$n net profits. Messrs. A. Silva, J. P. Echeverria and V. Castañeda were named directors and J. G. Russell syndic.

It is feared that the "No hay otro," an Oriental pilot cutter, with a crew of three men and 11 pilots, has been lost off Maldonado, as she has been out since 1st May and nothing heard of her.

The Rio Parana will clear from the Boca for Asuncion on Tuesday next at 11 a.m. Cargo will be received only up to and including Monday, and on Tuesday special tram lorries for the transport of passengers' luggage will leave the Plaza Victoria from 8 to 10 a.m.

"A telegram received in this city yesterday morning reports the arrival at St. Vincent, Cape Verde, of the Liverpool steamer Thessaly. This steamer is bound from the River Plate for Avonmouth, and had, on leaving Montevideo, a large quantity of dead meat, which was being imported for English consumption. It appears that during the voyage the machinery which was to keep the meat in a frozen state broke down, and as a consequence much of the meat having become bad had to be thrown over. According to a telegram received by the owners of the steamer it is said that over 11,000 carcases of mutton had to be thrown into the sea."—Liverpool Mercury, May 5th.

Mr. Oscar Arlt, the well-known estanciero, was welcomed to-day on his return from Europe where he spent a well earned vacation of several months. He returns to the Plate a Benedict and with the good wishes of his legion of friends. Next month he will start for the Doña Juanita estancia in San Luis, in which he is partner with Mr. E. Schroeder.

Government has prorogued for ten days more the time for paying Patente Tax.

The Custom House receipts to-day were $410,424.

The Senate has approved the nomination of Messrs E del Campo, M Unzue, L O Basualdo and B del Carril as City Commissioners.

The Finance Minister has sent to the Rentas Office orders as to the collection in future of half the Customs duty in gold, or its equivalent in legal tender notes. The ordinary duties are to be paid in gold. The additional duties, double duties, fines, and penal and all other duties in paper at par. The new rule will come into force on June 2d, and the rates will be sent to the several Custom Houses every Monday and Thursday. The rate for Monday next will be $2.25, for each gold dollar. The Rentas office will arrange the way in which the duties' accounts must be kept, and how the accounts up to to-day must be closed, and also those pending which will come under the new law. It is understood that all new accounts and payments not closed and made to-day come under the new law. The Rentas Office will telegraph to the different Custom Houses the gold rate established by the Finance Minister.

The Live Stock Journal of April 25th publishes the following:—

"There is likely to be a great revolution in the system of sheep breeding in Argentina. Experts have come to the conclusion that the climate of the province of Buenos Aires is much too damp for the Merinos, and their conclusions are doubtless well founded, since thousands of these sheep succumbed during the past winter to diseases brought about by the humidity of the atmosphere. Long woolled sheep, especially Lincolns, thrive much better in Buenos Ayres, and the great stretch of thinly-populated territory between the province and the Cordilleras offers magnificent pasture for fine wool breeds."

"The South American States are likely in the future to take a leading part in the production of meat for export, and the following comparative table of the number of live stock in Venezuela will show the great attention that is being paid to stock breeding in this country:—

Cattle	2,158,267	8,466,291
Sheep & goats	2,309,418	5,727,517
Swine	669,112	1,929,693
Horses	192,815	387,646

Application has been made to the London Stock Exchange Committee to appoint a settling day in and to grant a quotation to the following securities, viz.:—Buenos Aires and Ensenada Port Railway Company, Limited—sixty thousand new shares. Application has also been made to the Committee to allow the following securities to be quoted in the Official List, viz.: City of Parana—£212,000 Five per Cent Waterworks Mortgage Bonds, in lieu of scrip.

A most cheering telegram was received from the London Bolsa correspondent to-day announcing that the Western Railway issue was covered 4 times over and that the stock already commands 1 o/o premium. Given the negative state of London opinion about Argentine concerns, the news is doubly satisfactory and gives rise to expectations of a further improvement of Argentine values.

The great news on 'Change is that the National Government has received most favourable offers to purchase its 250,000 National Bank shares from an American firm, through its London representative. It seems that a high price is offered, but only on condition that the Government's prerogative in the naming of directors ceases, that is to say, the bank remains effectively the bank of the nation, the Government naming only the Governor or President. The rumour comes from such good quarters that the shares are in great demand, stiffening up tremendously to-day, and it is said that the Government is inclined to favourably consider the proposal.

The following passengers leave for Europe in the s.s. Duca di Galliera:—General Bartalome Mitre, Ministro Plenipotenciario Baron de Rotenhan, R C Parson, Antonio Soler y Sra Vicente Rolleri, Emilio Rosetti, Juan Babace, Jose Borsa, Miguel Brill, Dr. Enrique Garcia, Meroce, Sulio Piquet, Juan Arbuco, Jorge Plant, Federico Salvati y Sra, Daniel y Elvira San Miguel, B W Fremery, Clara Berrone, William Fritoch, Natalio Tomasi, Olimpia Berrone, Carlos Stegmann, Pedro A. An important lawsuit has been brought to a close in which the Ferrando heirs were plaintiffs and Mr. Marcos Juarez, Governor of Cordoba, defendant. The suit was brought about over the sale of the heirs' estate Calle Maipu 502, 516 and 526, and Gral. Lavalle 701, at judicial auction, Mr. Juarez purchasing the lot for 112,500 m$n. As the money was not deposited in due time, the judge, Dr. Garay, issued an order, which was replied to by Mr. Juarez's counsel alleging that his client did not intend to proceed with the business in view of the defects in the title-deeds. The Judge overruled the objection, and Don Marcos appealed, with the result that the Court of Appeal has confirmed Dr. Garay's finding on all counts, but without costs.

Montevidean advices announce that a leading bear offered to sell yesterday a large amount of paper, National Bank notes, at a shave of one or two per cent; stocks are all very flat, and there is almost a panic on 'Change. Custom House receipts for month have fallen to 800,000 dollars. National Bank passed yesterday bills for £500,000 on London. It is known positively that the loan has been done at 84½ per cent or 80 per cent net.

The following figures shew the value of gold coins in the National paper currency with to-day's premium of 125.00 o/o:—

DEATH OF MR. SUFFERN.

Mr. James Suffern, who died in Montevideo on 28th May, was the youngest son of the late David Suffern of Co. Antrim, Ireland, who came to this country in 1840.

On the foundation of the Oriental National Bank Mr. Suffern was sent to Colonia to establish a branch office and remained at its head until Dr. Reus retired from the presidency of the Bank, when, following his chief, he at once resigned.

Shortly after, when Dr Reus started the Sociedad Nacional de Credito, Mr. Suffern was named manager in Montevideo, which post he held until Dr. Reus's illness brought about a difficult position for the Sociedad, and on the appointment of a new President and Board of Directors, Mr. Suffern again followed the fortunes of Dr. Reus and at once tendered his resignation.

Subsequently he started the "Banco Departamental de la Colonia" and was engaged in floating the concern when death overtook him at his residence in Montevideo at 3 o'clock in the morning of 28th May.

His funeral, which took place on the following day, was largely attended.

He leaves a widow and four small children in easy circumstances, and to them we tender our sincere sympathy on their bereavement.

DEATHS.

On the 30th May, at Southampton, Thomas Drysdale, senior, of Mossley Hill, Liverpool, aged 77 years. [By cable.]

On the 31st May, at 377 Avenida Montes de Oca, suddenly, William Brooking, age 58 years.

Wolseley Sheep Shearing Machine Company, limited.
This company is prepared to supply the Wolseley Sheep Shearing Machines, with their accessories, in any quantities. They are now coming into general use in Australia, where during the past season upwards of 7,000,000 of sheep have been shorn by them; and it is confidently expected that over 20,000,000 will be shorn by them in that country this year. The following are some of their proved advantages over the ordinary shears:—
Estimated at per sheep per clip.
(1) Increase is quantity and value of wool (See testimonials).... 11d.
(2) Increased value of pelts owing to total absence of cuts........ 1
(3) Saving of 1 per cent, usual allowance for deaths resulting from cuts and stabs 2¼
(4) Saving of labor and time, as the work can be performed in half the time usually occupied with the old style of shearing.... 1¼
Total per clip per sheep.... 16d.
(5) Total absence of suffering to the sheep.
These economies add enormously to the income of the Australian wool-growers, and are applicable relatively to sheep-farmers everywhere.

Hon. Medical Officer
Dr. HIRON, 574 Maipú.
Superintendent—
MR. DONALD CLARK.
Patients are received on Tuesdays and Fridays. The train from Plaza Constitucion at 4.30 p.m. arrives at 5.14 p.m., and a carriage will be at the station to convey patients and their luggage to the Home.
Private patients pay $2 per day: ordinary patients $1 per day.
Recommendations for free orders can be obtained from any member of the Committee, but applicants must prove that they have no means wherewith to meet the ordinary charges of the Home
To obtain an order for admission a recommendation must be taken to the Hon. Medical Officer, accompanied by a note from the patient's doctor certifying that it is a case coming within the rules of the Institution.
Visitors are allowed to see their friends on Wednesdays and Sundays from 1 to 5 p.m., and for their convenience a Break belonging to the Institution will on every Sunday be waiting the arrival of the 2.15 train at Lomas, and take them to the Home and back free of charge.
Subscriptions in aid of the funds will be thankfully received by the Honorary Treasurer.
JOHN DRYSDALE, Chairman,
H. G. ANDERSON, Hon Treasurer,
W. C. HUXTABLE, Hon. Secretary.

A YOUNG GIRL wishes a situation as nurse Apply Calle Rioja 676. n828 30 j3

Strange, but perfectly true.
Everybody has an absolutely blind spot in each eye, and its presence may be easily demonstrated by the following simple experiment:
Hold this page about a couple of feet away, so that the spot is opposite the left eye and the cross opposite the right. Close the left eye, and fix the gaze of the right steadily on the round spot. Now bring the paper slowly nearer, and a point will be reached when the cross will totally disappear from sight. At a less distance it will reappear, for it is only when the image of the cross is exactly on the blind spot that it is invisible.
Now, gentle reader, another simple experiment, and this time to demonstrate that, blind spots notwithstanding, you are NOT blind to your own interests:—
"Let J. Brown dress you elegantly, yet economically, for cash."
And please note that on and after June 2nd J. Brown's address will be 513 Piedad, esquina San Martin,
(above Messrs. Mackern & McLean's establishment)
Prices will not be advanced.
Gentlemen who prefer being waited on with samples will kindly make appointments as heretofore.
Casilla de Correo 1694.

Winter

GOODS

Messrs. Gebbie & Co are now showing in their drapery establishment a select assortment of Winter Goods too numerous to mention.

In the Gentlemen's Branch, Scotch and English Tweeds, Serges, Corduroys, etc., etc., which is under the charge of two French cutters.

We are sorry to advise our customers that, owing to the uncertain value of the Dollar, we will be obliged henceforward to sell only for cash.

Dr. J. Collis Browne's CHLORODYNE.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE

Advice to Invalids.—If you wish to obtain quiet refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by D. J. Collis Brown, (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 5 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russel Street, Bloomsbury, London. Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the widespread reputation this justly esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy for general utility, we must question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are so sorry to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances "ad infinitum" of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne.s Chlorodyne in Diarrhoea and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhoea, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's from a firm Conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a deliberate Breach of Faith on the part of the Chemist to prescribe and Patient alike. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes and Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain. His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists.

Caution.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr J Collis Browne, was, undoubtedly, the Inventor of Chlorodine; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which he regretted to say, had been sworn to,—See "The Times," July 13, 1864.

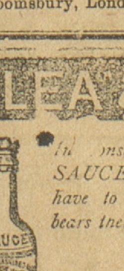

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1 1/2d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d,. and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

Caution.—Beware of Piracy and Imitations.
